The weather turned much colder yesterday and was d-d-d-d winterish. All this week the weather has been unseasonable and disagreeable to all who have been visible on the street. Merchants have complained at the dull trade and hoped for a change. At this time last year the weather was settled and people were preparing to endure a long hard winter.

In certain western localities when they say that a man's weight has been suddenly increased the people know that he has been ridden with buckshot, and when the morning paper remarks that a certain man who was in jail last night now wears a single suspender, it is understood that the man mentioned may be found hanging by the neck to a convenient limb.

The State Fair.

The State Board of Agriculture will soon make the state fair for the over 2 years and there is not a single plausible reason why Decatur should not be there. On complaint to an our railroad facilities, beautiful surroundings, and accommodations for entertaining large numbers of people are all in our favor. Together with the business men and citizens of Decatur and Macon county are not by any means blind to the fact that the location of the fair here would be a great benefit to the city and county. On the contrary they pluckily see and fully realize the importance of the fair and will make a struggle to secure it.

Efforts in that direction are already being made and their success is evident if they are but met with proper encouragement on the part of our people.

The experiment of holding it in the north-west part of the state did not prove successful in the past two years, and to put it any further south of here would be equally unsuccessful. The fair should be held in the center of the state as possible, and it cannot be gotten any nearer than by locating it in Decatur. The people from the north, south, east and west will then find it more accessible than it has been for many years in the past. The residents of the southern portion of the state will not take an interest in the fair if it is put in the northern part, because it calls for too big an outlay of cash to reach it, and vice versa. When centrally located, however, the residents of the state are put on an equal basis, and general satisfaction will be the result. As before stated Decatur has all the advantages on her side, and all that is necessary to secure it is to lead a helping hand and give substantial encouragement to the project.

Maggie Mitchell.

On next Friday evening Maggie Mitchell will appear at the opera house in this city, in "Little Barefoot," a play in which she is almost as well known as in "Fauchon." Her reputation is so thoroughly established that the mere mention of her coming is almost sufficient advertisement to fill the house to overflowing. Everybody likes her, and indeed there is no more deserving actress on our stage. Purely original, she is at the head of a very pleasing school of acting, having not only much witchery of action, romphness and animation, but also the ability to express emotion and pathos most effectively. She has the wonderful faculty of being wild without being effusive, and lively without straining or unnaturalness. In the pathetic parts of the piece she is just as natural as in the pure comedy bits, and the transition from one to the other is as purely artistic as any acting could possibly be. The prices are 50 and 75 cents and $1. Sale of seats commences on Tuesday morning at Curtis & Co's.

Attention Firemen.

There will be an adjourned meeting this (Friday) evening of the Young America Hook and Ladder company, at the council rooms.

N. Rich, Secretary.

President Priest, of the Decatur street railway, is preparing to move the tracks from Main street to the depot. He has purchased heavy iron and will soon lay it.

A young fellow living at Harristown got a free ride home the other afternoon pretty nicely. He got on the rear platform of the train in this city, and as travel was heavy that day, the conductor did not reach him until the train stopped at Harristown. Seeing he was home the young man stated he had made a mistake in the train in this city and refused to pay his fare.

The talk of the council making the tabernacle owners pay a license because church entertainments and roller skating are held there, does not meet with general approval. The majority of the business men are opposed to it, and will sign a remonstrance if the council undertakes to make the owners pay a license. It is used merely for local entertainments, and to tax it would be wrong on the face of it.

The state conference of prohibitionists will be held in this city on the 29th and 30th of the present month and will be a meeting of considerable interest. Delegates from all parts of the state will be here and the attendance has been estimated at from twelve to thirteen hundred persons. Governor St. John has promised positively that he will be in attendance and address the meeting. This will be his first speech since his recent race for the presidency.

"Bound not to be undersold in Christmas goods," as some local dealer have advertised. Now for fun! But I do not mean fun. Nor I do not mean to deceive the people by advertising old stock as all new. Now I can say, my entire stock of children's Christmas books, piano toilet cases, work boxes, albums, Christmas cards, oil paintings, anything you want in a nice present, is all new, and all of which will be sold by Jan. 1st, regardless of cost, at my New Book Store in the building recently occupied by Dinneen & Doyle, East Eldorado street.—[R. ### BEYOND THE SEA.

Minister Kasson Presents His Neutrality Project to the Congo Conference at Berlin.

Failure of England's Efforts at Mediation Between France and China.

Many Buildings Damaged and a Number of People Injured by a Hurricane in Vienna.

OTHER FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

BERLIN, Dec. 11.—The Congo Committee yesterday discussed the question of free navigation on the Niger River. Kasson, the American delegate, presented his neutrality project, which has a much wider scope than any other proposals that have yet been made. His proposition, besides providing for the neutrality of both the Congo and the Niger Rivers, includes the inland territory, rivulets and canals. The delegates of France and Portugal strongly oppose Kasson's proposition. The German delegates are silent, while the English delegates appear apathetic. No decision has been arrived at by the committee on this subject. The committee will meet again Friday, when a general conference is expected to continue the discussion of France and Portugal to offer amended railway plans.

Minister Kasson's proposed binds the powers signing the agreement at the Congo Conference to treat as neutral all territory defined in the first declaration of the conference. Kasson read a long paper in support of his proposal. He stated that France desires that she be regarded as a neutral power in order that she may possess an extensive coal depot for her iron-works at Bama Point, near the mouth of the Congo River.

VIENNA, Dec. 11.—A disastrous hurricane prevailed in the city and vicinity last night, the wind reaching a velocity of eighty miles an hour. Railroad trains were blown from the tracks and many passengers sustained injuries. Several of the magnificent public buildings of the city were severely damaged, and some will have to be entirely rebuilt. The property loss will be great. The storm unroofed fifty houses. People were dashed against walls by the violence of the gale, and many had their limbs broken.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—A dispatch from Paris to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that Earl Granville, British Foreign Minister, has informed Prime Minister Pury that the English negotiations with China with the view of settling the Sino-Chinese difficulty amicably have resulted in a failure.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

American Methodists Commence the Centenary Celebration of Their Church.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 11.—Mount Vernon Church was crowded yesterday at the opening of the Centennial Conference of Methodism. Bishop Granberry was chosen presiding officer, and the venerable Dr. Joseph Cummings read the Scripture lesson. A centenary hymn, composed for the occasion by Dr. S. K. Cox, of Washington, was then sung. Bishop Foster preached the sermon. He feltly referred to the death of Bishop Pierce and Bishop Simpson, saying they had been appointed, respectively as speaker and alternate to make the opening address at this conference. The close of the century just ending, while not at dark as the times of one hundred years ago, was dark enough. Time-honored theories were being exploded, sacred institutions were being put to severe tests, and the people were in the grip of a great conflict for the final dominion of the world. The contest would leave no rent in the church. It was important that Calvinism went down; all its great truth could not float its error. Speaking of platinities in the pulpit, Bishop Foster said to-day there was a vast amount of endless and spiritless preaching. He closed with an appeal for temperance, after which the session closed with the benediction.

At the afternoon session Rev. Dr. H. B. Halsey, of Illinois, and Rev. Dr. John Wiley read essays. In the evening there were meetings at eleven churches, including four colored Methodist churches. The subject of missions was discussed, and the general opinion was that a deeper interest should be taken in that work.

THE FIRE RECORD.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11.—The six-story building on Leavitt street, occupied by Clark Bros. & Co., furniture manufacturers, was burned yesterday morning. The building was filled with highly inflammable material and made a fierce fire, and could not be controlled. A row of small three-story brick houses next the factory also burned so quickly that the houses were only empty in their night clothes, and were unable to save anything. The silk hat factory of E. Morris & Co. was damaged by water to a considerable amount. Baxter, Swan & Co. suffered considerable loss by water, which can not yet be estimated. A small tenement-house in the rear of the factory was crushed by falling walls and a small boy in the second story was buried beneath the ruins, but was afterwards rescued. The loss of Clark Bros. & Co. is $250,000; insured for $300,000. The factory building belonged to the Bailey estate, and was valued at $80,000; partially insured. The damage to the outside buildings is $25,000.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 11.—Fire was discovered in the hold of the steamship City of Augusta, which was to sail for New York yesterday, and was not extinguished until the ship had been filled with water. One thousand bales of cotton were partly burned. The loss to the cargo is $40,000; damage to the vessel slight.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 11.—The works of the Central Manufacturing Company, at the old north wharf, Central, Ill., burned Tuesday. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $5,000.

A Drummer Murdered and Robbed.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Dec. 11.—A special to the Evening Dispatch from Missoula, M. T., says: News has just been received from Golden City, British Columbia, that a commercial traveler named Baird was killed and robbed of $1,500 near that place. A large number of men were in hot pursuit of the murderers. Eddy, Hannond & Co., for whom Baird was traveling, offer a reward of $1,000 for the capture of the murderer.

Officers Arrested for Their City's Debt.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 11.—The Mayor and members of the Council of this city were arrested last evening upon order of the United States Circuit Court, for failure to pay taxes to pay a bond judgment. They were taken to Topeka.

On Monday Thomas W. Parry, a well-known citizen of Rockton, Ill., disappeared. Search was made for him everywhere, and yesterday his dead body was found in an out-house.

Judson Garrison, a teamster, was arrested at Plymouth, Pa., Wednesday evening for robbing Philip Wanders, a prominent and wealthy farmer of Ross Township, January 15, 1884.

Over forty dozen pocket-knives and considerable other cutlery was found in the possession of Arthur Robinson, who was arrested at Clinton, Ill., Wednesday afternoon on suspicion.

Cornelson, the attorney who convicted Judge Rice—the judge later committing suicide from shame—was sentenced at St. Stephen, Ky., Wednesday to three years in the penitentiary.

Sixteen new granges were organized in Pennsylvania the past year. The receipts were $200,000, and the dues were $100,000. There were 10,000 working granges in the State.

A Chicagoan, James Young, was married Wednesday at Erie, where the Catholic priest of his church, a married American, officiated. It is believed the pair eloped from some town in Ohio.

The citizens of Andersonville, O., turned out in great numbers and dispatched a tiger which had escaped from his winter quarters in a cage. The animal had killed dogs, sheep and cows along his route, and attacked no human being.

Bayard Was Not Offered a Place.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Governor Cleveland yesterday denied emphatically the truth of the rumor that he had tendered a cabinet portfolio to Senator Bayard. "I see in the papers," he said, "that I am credited with having made such an offer, but the statement is entirely unauthorized, unjustifiable and untrue. There was no political significance in Senator Bayard's visit to me. It was simply the visit of one gentleman to another, and the meeting was mutually agreeable."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Senator Salisbury, Mr. Bayard's colleague, said that Bayard's cabinet was widely untrue. He claims to speak with authority in saying that Mr. Bayard pretends to remain in the Senate, where, to begin with, his own language, "he will be the special champion of Cleveland's administration."

Vendor Predicted an Open Winter.

MONTREAL, Can., Dec. 11.—Belote Vendor died he had completed the manuscript of his almanac for 1885, which has just been issued from the press here. In his general forecast he predicts a winter of unusual severity, which will continue for two years, extending over the Northern and Middle States and Canada. The fall of 1884, he predicted, would be very open, with a mild, unsettled winter, to follow with cold full of snow and sleet. He also predicted an unusually green Christmas and a mild New Year.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK.

Dear Sir:—In the month of December, 1883, I took a heavy cold, which finally terminated in Pneumonia. My lungs were soon very much weakened by the strain of my cough, which was almost without cessation. I had severe pain in my side and back and between my shoulders; my breathing was quick and there was great oppression on my chest. The cough and the pain without ceasing. At this time my physician told me that I had Consumption. I raised large quantities of matter and had several severe hemorrhages. I became much emaciated and very weak. I was confined to the house for five months. After the doctors had given me up as incurable, I concluded to try your medicine. I began using the Seaweed Tonic and Pulmonic Syrup, and in a short time saw considerable improvement in my worst symptoms. I could lie down without bringing on coughing spells. My breathing at all times was easier. I had no more hemorrhages, and after I had taken the medicine for some time, I got so much better that I could walk a few rods from the door. I am now well, but my lungs are weak, and I am told by the physicians who first attended me, that part of one lung is gone, but that the cavities are now healed. They also say that your medicine has wrought wonders for me. Doctor, I cannot tell you how sick I was in a letter, but if any one who is afflicted will call on me, I will give them all particulars gladly, or I will answer their letters in case they can not come to see me. Yours truly, MRS. JENNIE M. JONES.

DISCHARGED FROM THE ARMY IN THE LAST STAGES OF CONSUMPTION.

CURED BY DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES.

Statement of Mr. JULIUS BOYDEN, Providence, R. I.

I was discharged from the U. S. Army in June, 1861, as an incurable Consumptive. My discharge reading thus: "Advanced stages of Consumption of the lungs. I was advised by the army surgeon to live out doors as much as possible. He informed my friends that I was incurable, but that with care I might be made comfortable for a time. My cough was almost without cessation. I relied mainly from my lungs in large quantities, and I had all the other well-known symptoms of the disease. I took many remedies without benefit. In September I went to see Dr. Schenck, and soon after began to use his full course of medicines. I soon felt their beneficial effects, my cough growing less and less, and my strength coming back to me very fast. In the following April I was entirely well, and came to Providence and went to work. From that time to this I have been entirely well, not spending one dollar for doctors or medicines for myself. I therefore know that Dr. Schenck's medicines are good and reliable in Lung Disease. My cure was obtained almost a miracle by those who knew me when I was discharged from the army.

CURED OF CONSUMPTION AFTER TWO YEARS OF SEVERE ILLNESS.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK.

Dear Sir:—I feel that I am doing good to others by writing you what your medicines have done for me. I was sick with Consumption for over two years, and after trying many remedies and consulting the best physicians in this city without benefit, I was induced to use your medicines. I had not taken the first bottle before I felt much better, and after continuing their use for some time was entirely cured. This was over five years ago, and I have continued to enjoy good health since. I feel that my cure is permanent. I am happy to add my testimony, with many others, to the efficacy of your medicines. I know many others in Newburgh who have been benefited by their use.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—I wish to tell you what your medicines have done for me, because I believe that many lives may be saved by my doing so. I already know of one who has been influenced by me to use them, after having been told by several physicians that he was hopeless.

But to my own case. In the year 1875 I was attacked with inflammation of the lungs, the result of a heavy cold. It was a severe attack, and I grew very fast. Among my friends it was reported that I had quick Consumption. I had a continual cough from the first, and soon began to raise large quantities of phlegm and matter from my lungs. I lost my appetite, and of course soon grew very weak so weak that I was obliged to go to bed. Weakness brought on night sweats, and lack of nourishment great loss of flesh. In six weeks I lost over thirty pounds. All this time I was taking the medicine of two of Albany's best physicians. I do not wish to blame them, but I do not think that they had made such a study of lung diseases as is necessary to treat so serious a case as mine was. At the end of these six weeks I lost faith in everything; I was satisfied that my time had come, and I said to my doctors:

In two weeks I was so much better that I got up from bed and went down town; and in four weeks I felt well. In the next three months I gained over thirty pounds of flesh, and I am very happy to say that I have been a well man ever since my recovery, which I consider is entirely due to you. I shall be pleased to see any one who may be interested in my case, or will gladly answer letters from those who find it impossible to call on me.
